
....a new home for STS Subsea

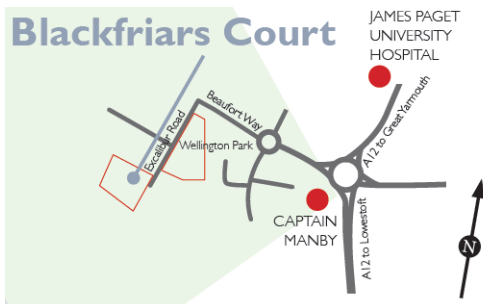

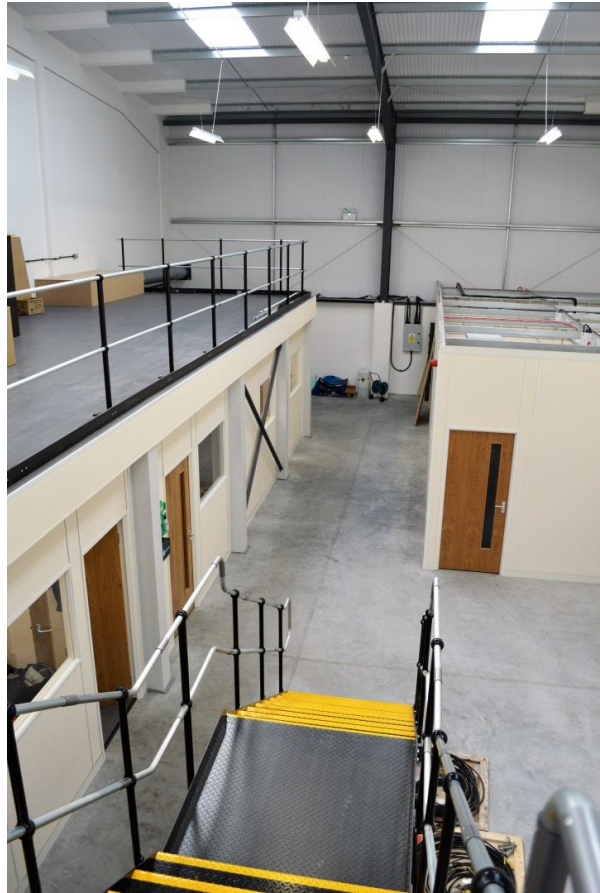

As part of our ongoing business development strategy we are pleased to announce that STS Subsea have moved to much larger, new build premises on the prestigious Beacon Park development in Great Yarmouth.

Our extensive new facility has been fitted out with temperature controlled offices, workshops, meeting/training rooms, stores and test areas. This enables STS Subsea to offer a much broader range of high quality products and services in addition to an increased capacity and the ability to offer fast-turnaround termination capability. Offering 4,000ft² with room for further expansion, this is a significant milestone in our future growth plans.

We have 2 spacious production workshops with polyurethane, neoprene and polyethylene moulding equipment plus an open warehouse area for accommodating very large assemblies. This coupled with in-house R&D, Machine Shop and Pressure Testing facilities enable STS Subsea to offer a vast range of services for providing turnkey solutions for the most demanding applications.

The new site is conveniently located just off the A12 and the recently opened A143 link road, close to the James Paget University Hospital with a wide range of accommodation and other amenities nearby.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your ongoing support that has enabled us to outgrow our home for the past 25 years in Acle and look forward to welcoming you to the new premises. We are planning a formal opening event in 2016 but in the meantime please feel free to drop in and visit us should you be in the area. We are very proud of our new facility and are looking forward to welcoming you for a guided tour, the kettle is usually warm and there is always the chance of biscuits if you are lucky !
